

ABOVE ALL A NEWSPAPER

The Evening World
Contains More and Better News Than Any Penny Contemporary.

MAKE A COMPARISON FOR YOURSELF.

PRICE ONE CENT.

3 O'CLOCK

TRAGEDY IN A FARM-HOUSE.

JOHN WEISMAN FOUND WITH A BULLET THROUGH HIS HEART.

Romantic and Sad Story of a Young Massachusetts Farmer Who Obtained His Wife Through an Advertisement—The Affair Shrouded in Mystery—The Couple Were Apparently Living Happily Together.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

GREENFIELD, Mass., Oct. 24.—On the floor in a quiet old farm-house in Shelburne, with a bullet through his heart and a pool of blood beside him, lies the body of John Weisman, a young man of twenty-eight, awaiting the coming of Medical Examiner Canedy.

The story of this startling announcement is a romantic and still and a sad one, and the cause of the rash act is not yet known.

A bride of six months ago is prostrated and an investigation is necessary before the facts can be fully known. The farm-house in Shelburne, the scene of the tragedy, nestles cozily among the hills and is, apparently, contented and happy, dwell John Weisman and his wife.

This morning, about 7 o'clock, Mrs. Weisman came running to the house of the nearest neighbor, forty rods distant, breathless with almost speechless broken exclamations of the Wells family learned that her husband was dead. Three men at once went to the house and found the body as stated above, lying on the floor, showing that the act must have been committed early this morning.

For the past few years, until his marriage, Weisman had lived in the house alone. About four years ago the father Weisman returned to Germany, leaving the Shelburne farm, worth several thousand dollars, to two brothers, Andrew and John.

About two years ago Andrew died, and John tilled the farm alone. He was shrewd and saving, and almost penurious, but very susceptible to the charms of a girl, who paid attentions to numerous girls, but he was a little eccentric and none encouraged his advances.

Instead of living alone, he inserted an advertisement in Philadelphia paper for a wife, speaking plainly of himself and his possessions, dating his letter at what he romantically called Oak Lodge Farm.

He received a letter from a girl that he freely shared to his associates, and the boys had considerable sport at his expense.

After an exchange of photographs and numerous letters young Weisman made a trip to Pennsylvania, and afterwards on a second trip he was married to a good-looking young girl, seemingly his superior socially in the walks of life.

It is said that her father was wealthy, and that the marriage was a genuine love match.

After a wedding journey the young couple settled down in the Shelburne home, and, although there were many rumors as to the romantic love match, the bride was cordially received and made welcome in the social circles of Shelburne.

The tragedy is as yet unaccountable.

Paris Wants the "Wild West."

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Buffalo Bill has arrived here after disbanding the "Wild West" at Richmond. The Indians will go home for the winter, and the horses and other stock will be brought to the farm of Gen. Beale, near this city. Mr. Cody will go straight to the plant in Nebraska and remain there until spring. It is the first time he has had a vacation for several years. He has made a fortune, and he is now planning to take the enjoyment of life. He thinks he may take a show to Paris next year. The Exposition people have made him a great offer, and he is not sure that he will not take the risk of two passages across the ocean.

The Lawyer's Plea Didn't Save Him.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 24.—On May 19, 1896, while the John B. Jeffery Printing Company was doing an apparently prosperous business, it confessed judgments aggregating $108,000. A new company was formed which took the plant of the old company and continued the business. Some company's creditors alleged that the judgments were fraudulent and made for the purpose of swindling the creditors. The case was taken to Judge Taylor to decide today. Of D. E. Tenny, who pleaded that he acted in this case as attorney for the trustees, the judge said: "It is his practice is, in fact, a prostitution of a noble profession to a very vicious use."

Two Were Crushed in the Wreck.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 24.—At a point one mile west of Tyrone, near this city, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, an east-bound freight jumped the track, and a west-bound freight, which was due at the time, crashed into it, smashing into kindling wood. Thirty-five cars laden with general merchandise, from Young boys from this city were stealing a ride at the time, and the wreck resulted in the death of John Epler and Edward Fawcett, who were crushed beyond recognition.

Three Efforts to Wreck Trains.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

St. Louis, Oct. 24.—A month ago an effort was made to wreck a Wabash Western passenger train near Mexico, Mo., when several passengers were badly injured. Now come two more attempts of the kind at the same place. Monday night the engineer of a Chicago and Alton passenger train derailed the train in time to avert the disaster. They were removed and the next train started. When the second train reached the spot the obstructions had been replaced. Detectives are hunting for the fiends.

Negligence Causes Another Death.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

CERTIFIED, Wyo., Oct. 24.—A party of Union Pacific engineers, pushing a hand-car along the track twenty-four miles west of this city, were run down by a train in a deep cut at a sharp curve yesterday. John McCann, aged fifty years, was thrown to pulp under the wheels. Four other men were seriously injured, and the engine and two cars were damaged. The cause of the accident was due to the neglect of the boss engineer to send a flagman in advance of his crew.

They Do Not Believe He Was Robbed.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., Oct. 24.—Albert A. Shaver, County Treasurer of Clark, is under arrest on a charge of appropriating between $1,000 and $1,500 of the county funds during his term of office in 1895. On the night of May 14, 1895, Shaver was found bound and gagged in his cell. He was charged he had been robbed of $4,000. His story was not generally believed and the present arrest is the result of investigations that have since been made.

They Could Not Hold the Hunters.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 24.—The two hunters who were seen coming out of the woods on Friday last, the day Paymaster McClure and Hugh Plummer were murdered, have been arrested. They are Frank Clark, of Parsons, and Herbert Edwards, of Parsons. Both are young men who have heretofore borne excellent reputations. They were seen leaving the woods on Friday last, and were seen leaving the woods on Friday last, and were seen leaving the woods on Friday last.

TWO POLICEMEN DISMISSED.

The Commissioners Determined to Stop Drunkenness on the Force.

The Police Commissioners have dismissed Patrolmen Patrick McCormack, of the Fifth, and Thomas Montgomery, of the Nineteenth Precincts, from the force for drunkenness. Sergeant John McDermott, of the Twenty-second, for a similar offense, escaped with the loss of thirty days pay. The latest assignments are:

First Precinct—John Mamm, half a day's furlough; Second Precinct—Michael Sullivan, one day; Fifth Precinct—Wm. Carey, one day; J. J. McBride, eight days; Patrick McCormack, dismissed from the force.

Seventh Precinct—Jas. Quinn, half a day; Thos. C. Williams, three days; Jas. Croker, complaint dismissed; John Hogan, half a day; J. J. McBride, eight days; Patrick McCormack, dismissed from the force.

Eighth Precinct—George Snyder, three days; John J. Casin, one day; F. White, one-half day; Fairbank, complaint dismissed; John L. Krash, complaint dismissed; George E. Howar, one day; George E. Howar, one day.

Ninth Precinct—John Hughes, five days; Lewis Kersch, one-half day; John J. Fulton, one day; John Kery, one day; George A. Neal, two and one-half days.

Tenth Precinct—James F. Connor, one day; Patrick Coffey, two and one-half days; John Booth, complaint dismissed; John L. Krash, complaint dismissed; James Rogers, one day; Henry Regal, three days; Fred Gilman, three days.

Fifteenth Precinct—M. J. Cooney, one day; William F. J. Mazzy, three days; Abram Hasletton, three days; Roundman H. Aiken, five days; Julius F. Didier, two days; Ed J. Kelly, one day; George E. Howar, one day.

Eighteenth Precinct—Thos. Jefferson, half a day; Nineteenth Precinct—F. J. Gerrahy, three days; Tenth Precinct—Henry H. Kennedy, one day; Montgomery, dismissed from the force.

Twenty-first Precinct—George E. Howar, one day; Twenty-second Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Twenty-third Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Twenty-fourth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day.

Twenty-fifth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Twenty-sixth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Twenty-seventh Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Twenty-eighth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day.

Twenty-ninth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirtieth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirty-first Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirty-second Precinct—John L. Krash, one day.

Thirty-third Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirty-fourth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirty-fifth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirty-sixth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day.

Thirty-seventh Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirty-eighth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Thirty-ninth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day; Fortieth Precinct—John L. Krash, one day.

First Court—David Gerrow, complaint dismissed.

THEY THREATENED HIS LIFE.

Indecent Letters Were Sent About, and They Thought He Was the Author.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

COTTRELLVILLE, Miss., Oct. 24.—W. L. Hooper received an anonymous letter yesterday ordering him to leave town at once. Two months later, Alfred Tankerly found a similar letter tacked to his front door. After this letter speaking slightly of the character of highly respected ladies began to be found on the roads. Efforts were made to discover the author, but in vain.

Hooper and Tankerly, who are related to the ladies in question, went on the warpath. They suspected Mr. Tankerly and announced their determination to call him to account. Hamilton was heard to threaten that they would kill him out and all him.

Mr. Tankerly just swore out a warrant for the arrest of all three.

Silk Factories in Danger of Closing.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Petitions have begun to come in since the adjournment of Congress, from persons interested in the manufacture of silk, praying for a legislative remedy for the condition of things threatened as a result of the recent decision in Pennsylvania respecting the duty on silk reeling. The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty. The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

The duty on the raw silk is now 50 per cent. ad valorem, but the importers preferred the claim that the ribbons should be admitted free of duty.

VON DER AHE MAKES A ROW

CHARGES THAT MAY STOP THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES.

Empire Kelly and Gaffney Ready to Quit Unless the St. Louis President Denies or Retracts the Statements Made Yesterday at Pittsburgh—President Day Says Frankly What He Is Willing to Do.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

St. Louis, Oct. 24.—The report sent over the country from Pittsburgh, to the effect that Chris Von der Ahe said that both Empires Kelly and Gaffney had favored the Glans in all the first six games in the World's Championship Series, has created quite a row already, and may lead to a discontinuance of the series.

Kelly says that unless Von der Ahe retracts and makes an apology he will refuse to empire further games.

Gaffney says that under no consideration will he continue his part in the World's Series, and that he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

President Day says that if Von der Ahe has questioned the honesty of the umpires, and refuses to retract, he will stand by Kelly and Gaffney and retract the statement on his own authority, but merely as a matter of courtesy.

WHERE IS LAWYER VICKERY?

Fourteen Days Ago He Disappeared from This City.

Thomas Vickery, a well-known lawyer of this city, having for over eight years been associated with Isaac Fromme, whose office is located at 289 Broadway, is missing from his boarding-house, 109 East Fifty-first street.

The circumstances of his disappearance, coupled with the possession of a large sum of money, give rise to fears among the members of his family that he has met with foul play.

In the latter part of September Mr. Vickery went to Philadelphia on business for his mother, who owns considerable property in that city. After collecting the rents for her and disposing of a piece of property he returned to this city with an estimated sum of over $2,000 of which $1,100 is in the form of a draft which was cashed by Mr. Fromme.

Mr. Vickery is a widower, having a daughter, a young girl, who lives at 109 East Fifty-first street. Mr. Vickery has not been seen since his return from Philadelphia, and his whereabouts between the time of his return and the 10th inst. remains a mystery.

For some time his grief was pitiable, but after his emotions had partly subsided he requested his landlady's daughter to telegraph to his mother that he would be in time to meet the train which arrives at 1 o'clock, and would there receive the body of his child, which was to be buried that day in Woodlawn Cemetery.

When the landlady's daughter returned, after despatching the message, Mr. Vickery had left the house, taking with him a small valise.

He visited his office at 12 o'clock, but had little to say, and soon left, as it was supposed, to meet the train, and since that time he has not been seen.

Mr. Fromme was unable to throw any light upon the disappearance of Mr. Vickery, but stated that on the day of his disappearance Mr. Vickery had called at the office and obtained the balance due on the draft, amounting to $1,100.

Mr. Fromme further stated that since the death of his wife, about two years ago, Mr. Vickery had been somewhat irregular in his habits, frequently remaining away from business for two months at a time.

He said nothing at the time of his visit respecting his child's death, but Mr. Fromme was under the impression that the blow had been somewhat unmettlely received, and that he was not entirely responsible for his actions.

The missing man's mother is almost prostrated with grief and anxiety, and has inquired of the police for information that will lead to his recovery.

His brother applied to Police Headquarters for assistance in the search, but the officers indicated that the man was not upon hearing of the amount of money in his possession, as they were under the impression that Mr. Vickery had abandoned, and a regular complaint must be made.

The body of his child lies in the receiving vault at Woodlawn, as the family prefer to wait a few days longer before burying her, trusting that the absent father will return in the interim.

INDICTED FOR DELIBERATE MURDER.